Qualitative Feedback

What were the good points?

Pre reading was very useful - case based discussions useful
Useful
Good discussions
Shreya talk
Good spine overview
Mcq and emw good. Shreya's talk was very concise and useful
Good topics
Spinal infection presentation good summarised points
Pre-reading materials. Shreya is a fantastic organiser and teacher
Quiz really good thanks!
Discussion of cases
Good mcq practice
All exam relevant. Liked idea of mcq. Covered all critical CBDs.
Good organisation, relevant MCQ to help with exam preparation
Having the papers in advance is great thank you. The three session block was very well organised. Much appreciated.
X rays and MRI scan teaching
The quiz & the cases
Good case based examples. Good lecture on tumours, well formatted for exam
A good module. Practice exam questions and real case discussions.
Very good and relevant lectures with Q&A sessions.
Case Based Discussions around common presentations that might come up in FRCS is useful.
Covered common topics for exams. Found MCQs helpful
The methods used to try maximise information retention such as the MCQs and cases were excellent.
The quiz & the cases
Good cases
Good session on infection with useful take home points.
The MCQs were very helpful to focus on the technique and some of the topics we may encounter.
Good overview

The exam focus was good and topics were succinct in the first two presentations.

What could be improved?

Mcqs to be past questions or verified to show what they are like in the exam

more lectures
Any real pt examination. to see how to do spine exam.
More relevant exam references.
As per discussion, collecting previous exam stations and practicing these even if not on real patients but other trainees acting.
A greater focus on exam questions
Cases taking format of exam... likely questions, salient history and examination points.

Maybe another similar activity towards the end
A greater focus on exam questions
...
Some of the session lacked a bit of substance.
Cases could really have done with some more context to add to the educational value.
Further time
The last presentation focused excessively on deriding other specialties and services. The style of delivery undermined the talks. The interactions of the faculty was unprofessional at times. Comments made to the 2nd speaker were quite disrespectful. I was uncomfortable
